NATIONAL FINALS REPORT: Raghu Iyer represented Phyllis Court at the National 'Pink' Charity One Ball Finals at Winchester on Sunday and had a great time. Although brand new to AC and a GC 'yearling', Raghu mixed it with lots of bisques against some very experienced qualifiers from all over the country. He managed a very respectable 4 wins in this wonderful tournament which saw a total of 358 players overall raise over £3000 for the Breast Cancer Campaign.

One Ball,
as Raghu Iyer springs surprise!

It has been quite a pair of days for Mike Fensome who today added this fun event to his victory crowns.

Losing just one game all morning, Mike emerged as a clear winner ahead of Heather Masheter and surprise outsider Raghu Iyer.

Going into the last round, Raghu who only started playing last season, was in with a shout of victory but he had to hope for slips from both Heather and Mike.

But neither faltered and that pushed Raghu narrowly into third place.

More importantly than all that, the event raised £100 for Breast Cancer with the additional aid of a couple of generous donations from other croquet members passing by.

Pretty in Pink:

Standing - Raghu Iyer, Frances Colman, Chris Roberts, Michael Wiles,

And seated - Margaret Broughton, Rosie Richardson, Mike Fensome (winner), Heather Masheter & Christine Searle
