13 May - Raymond Wood wins the Handicap Singles trophy in tightest of finals

It was a nail-biting 13th hoop decider that swung one way and then the other before Raymond Wood became the second name on our Handicap Singles Tournament (Black Ball) trophy today.

Dainne Browne looked to have that last hoop in the bag when Wood uncharacteristically 'fluffed' a clearance that took out his own ball and left her with a free shot at the hoop.

But she pushed that one wide and then missed a crucial clearance of her own to hand Wood the title at the end of a long day's action.

Although handicap play was relatively new for many in the field, all enjoyed the increased interactivity around the hoops that 'extra turns' tends to provide.

Colin Morgan (who eventually ended up joint third with Raghu Iyer) share the 100% wins distinction with Nina Cox at the half way point and both Roger Goldring and Mike Fensome also looked to be on good form before dropping out of contention after lunch.

Congratulations to Raymond, who usually wins something every season - and this one will be especially pleasing as, for him, it's a new one!
