23 July - Pat Eades and Bruce Mason win Drawn Partners tournament

It was good to welcome Pat Eades and Bruce Mason back to competition croquet after lengthy absences for different reasons, and lovely to see the pair run-out victorious too.

They beat Ian Norris and Denise Keir in a close final that had a strange ending at the 12th hoop when Pat 'tidied' pink off the lawn. She mistakenly believed that it belonged to a double banked game that had just finished, only then realise that it belonged to her opponent Ian!

She and Bruce recovered from this 'wrong ball' situation within a few shots and rounded off a sweet victory nevertheless.

The field of 16 players (8 pairs) was disappointing again and it does seem, that with players engaging more in singles tournaments and season-long competitions, that perhaps next season the running three Drawn Partners events should be reviewed.
